WAR TO UNSEAT BECK STARTED BY DEMOCRATS

Pennsy Congressman says
Half of Congressmen
May Be Ineligible

CLAIMS HOME IN KEYSTONE STATE

Opponents Charge He has Violated Spirit Of Constitution

Washington, Feb. 6.—Warning the house elections committee that if he is unseated the right of more than half the members of congress will be placed in jeopardy, Rep. James M. Beck (R.) of Pennsylvania, pleaded with the committee today for a favorable report in his contest.

Beck elected from the Philadelphia district of Senator-elect William S. Vare, asserted that he had fully complied with all provisions of the constitution and state law before becoming a candidate.

A former senator general of the United States and student of the constitutional history to show that he was an "inhabitant" of Pennsylvania as the word was defined in debates of the framers of the constitution.

Objections Cited
His plea followed that of Rep. Kent (R.) of Pennsylvania, prosecutor of the contest, which was started on motion of Rep. Garrett (D.) of Tennessee, the Democratic leader in the house.

Beck's residence and law office in Washington, his summer home in Seabright, N. J., his years of law practice in New York and his lack of residence in Philadelphia, were cited as reasons for sustaining charges that Beck was not entitled to vote or be voted for in Pennsylvania.

Framers of the constitution, Beck said, put the word "inhabitant" in its restrictions upon representatives in congress, rejecting the word "resident."

"To be an 'inhabitant' referred not to physical presence, but to a political status," he said.

Beck said that he declared at Philadelphia on April 30, 1925, his intention to resume his citizenship in Philadelphia, and voted in one election before he was named for congress.

"To deny me a seat because I had a home in Washington, would be to disregard nearly one-half of the senate and a considerable number of the house of representatives," said Beck.

He pointed out that Senator Borah lives far more in Washington than in Idaho, and that the late Senator Lodge owned a home in Washington, spending but little time in Massachusetts.

His right to seek election was never questioned during the campaign in Philadelphia, he said.

IMPOUNDS DOGS AT DAMASCUS

County Warden not Using
City Jail; Dogs Sold
Or Destroyed

C. E. Donahey, county dog warden, operates a dog pound at Damascus, where all dogs seized by the warden or turned over to him are held, the warden stated today.

Donahey says that since he assumed office the custom of keeping dogs in the city jail here has not been followed.

Police, however, had been holding dogs in the jail until Mayor Phil Hiddleston's order that the custom be discontinued.

Dogs held in the pound at Damascus, Donahey says, are properly cared for until claimed by the owners, turned over to persons on the waiting list who wish to give dogs a home, or are destroyed.

Donahey says that any dog running at large without the 1928 license tag will be seized. It can be reclaimed by the owner only upon the payment of the legal fee as prescribed by the state, within 72 hours after seizure. The dog will be sold or destroyed after that time.

SUGGESTS CARE IN DRAFTING OF NEW COURT BILL

Cobourn Says Bill Should Be Drafted To Meet
Voters' Approval

ACTION NEEDED AT ONCE, HE SAYS

Judge of Inferior Court
Should Be Lawyer, In His Opinion

A plea that care be exercised in the drafting of a new lower courts bill by the state bar association's committee, in order that it will be such that it will be approved by the voters of the state and not be killed by riders is made in a letter to W. L. Hart, Alliance attorney, and member of the committee, by Atty. K. L. Cobourn, of Salem.

Cobourn, one of the county delegates to the recent state bar meeting at Columbus, said he found no opportunity to bring these suggestions out on the floor of the meeting and now brings them before the committee in writing through the district member of the committee.

Cobourn, an outstanding foe of the justice of the peace courts, terms them "so crude and primitive as to belong to the stone or some other crude age." He asks that a new system of lower courts be provided which will have judges who are lawyers and not laymen.

Needs Attention
The Salem attorney points out that the situation needs immediate attention in order that Ohio "maintain its self respect as one of the civilized states of the union."

"I was not impressed with the respect of your chairman, James A. White (Anti-Saloon League worker and a Columbus attorney) as it seemed to me he was trying to emphasize the difficulties and make the matter seem too complicated as to be practicable," says Cobourn in his letter.

He states that he can see how easily such a bill designed to eliminate the justice courts could be defeated "but it is just as easy to draw one that will be overwhelmingly approved." All that is needed, he says, "is a law creating courts that will exercise the functions that are now being entrusted to justice of the peace. Don't divide the cities that now have municipal courts that are superseding the justice of the peace. Cities don't want to be governed by a rural county court and would vote against a measure that would establish another court extending its jurisdiction over cities now having municipal courts."

Objections Heard
Objections he heard at the convention were from rural counties with insufficient work to keep present courts busy and from cities which are not in favor of supplanting their courts by another county court. The cities, he says, "have gotten rid of these crude courts so don't let them be so selfish as to assist to keep others of the state from enjoying the same privilege."

Cobourn warns that an attempt should be made to do one thing at a time, and not try to modify the municipal court bill at the same time.

"Make the judge a salaried officer; make his qualification require him to be admitted to the bar so we do not have to start a freshman law school in his court everytime we try a case," says Cobourn.

New York, Feb. 6.—"We will make you our next governor, Jimmy," some one shouted as Mayor Walker spoke to a crowd of 3,500 gathered to hear Eamon de Valera, Irish "Republican" leader.

"Not if I know it," replied the mayor. "New York has done handsomely by me, and I'm going to show my appreciation."

MILLER LOSES IN HIGH COURT

Court of Appeals Affirms
Conviction of Former Property Custodian

New York, Feb. 6.—Conviction of Col. Thomas W. Miller, of Wilmington, Del., former alien property custodian, of defrauding the United States of its rights and privileges by his failure to give it his impartial and disinterested services, was today unanimously affirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Unless Colonel Miller secures a writ of certiorari from the United States supreme court, or favorable action by President Coolidge on a parole from Federal Judge Knox, who sentenced him, he will have to serve the 18 months prison sentence imposed after his conviction. A fine of $5,000 was also part of the sentence.

Colonel Miller and former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty were accused by the government of paying to a Swiss concern, through Richard Merton, a German, $6,439.79, the value of assets of the American Metals company, which was seized during the war.

Daugherty escaped by a disagreement of the jury.

IT'S A POOR LAW

So Says Woman, Disappointed Because Mayor Cannot Issue Her Divorce

"I can bring them together, but I can't part them," That is the answer Mayor Phil Hiddleston gave to a young wife who called upon his honor Sunday and requested that he grant her a divorce from her husband.

Hiddleston told her at the outset he could not grant a decree but the woman believed it was because he had not been given sufficient evidence. She then went on with her story but the mayor again informed her he could not issue divorces.

"We mayors can marry 'em, but we can't part 'em, unless it is to send one or the other to jail for some offense," explained Hiddleston.

The woman seemed to think it a poor law, Hiddleston said, and declared she will see an attorney and try to get the divorce at Lisbon.

Whether Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, Gov. Al. Smith, of New York and other presidential candidates will enter the Ohio campaign by filing similar declarations with the secretary of state here appeared to be undecided.

Ross is a prominent member of the Columbus Nationalist society and is a vice-president, along with Attorney Clarence Darrow, Chicago, and others, of a nationwide organization opposed to "blue laws."

RURAL SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED

Courtney's School House,
South of Winona, Destroyed At Night

Fire of unknown origin destroyed Courtney's schoolhouse in Hanover township, south of Winona, at 10:30 p. m. Friday. There was no fire in the building at the time, the janitor having cleaned out the stove and put in the kindling ready for Monday morning.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Louis Laubacher, who lives near the schoolhouse. Mrs. Laubacher reported it to other members of the family who were asleep, and an alarm was sent into the telephone office at Winona. When the people arrived at the schoolhouse the building was ablaze and they were unable to save it.

WOMEN, CHILDREN FLEE FROM HOMES

Laws Must Be Obeyed By
All, Says Governor;
May Send Guards

Columbus, Feb. 6.—Announcement that he is ready to call Ohio national guardmen out for active service, if necessary, to insure obedience to law, was voiced here today by Gov. Vic Donahey.

The governor's declaration was prompted by the receipts of information that striking miners and sympathizers attacked non-union miners and their families at the Florence mine of the Y. and O. Coal company, near St. Clairsville, last night.

Adjutant General Frank Henderson today submitted to the governor a report from Lieut. Col. Don L. Caldwell, now at St. Clairsville, relative to last night's disturbance which was characterized as "serious." Caldwell stated that conditions were quiet today.

During the disturbance, women and children were removed from the non-union miners' homes to places of safety in the mining company's properties, the governor was informed.

Laws Must Be Obeyed
"Ours is a government of law and our laws must be obeyed," Donahey said. "In the event that the laws are not obeyed, troops will be forthcoming promptly. It makes no difference whether those violating the laws are coal miners, operators or members of any other organization."

"Conditions are pretty serious when it becomes necessary to move women and children—non-unionists—out of danger," continued the governor. "When the time comes, we are ready to send troops, but nothing of that nature is contemplated now. I have as yet received no appeal for troops."

Crowd Dispersed
St. Clairsville, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Normal conditions existed today following the disturbance which developed when a crowd of about 200 men, said to consist of striking miners and sympathizers, last night marched upon the homes occupied by 13 non-union miners and their families at the Florence mine of the Y. & O. ### Airplanes Join Search For Ten Fishermen Facing Death On Ice Cakes In Lake Erie

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Captain Paul H. Forner, coast guard commander, today appealed to the New York National Guard and Lieut. Edwin M. Rouns, manager of the Buffalo airport, to supply airplanes to search for the ten or more fishermen facing death on Lake Erie on a gigantic field of ice which broke away from the offshore pack seven miles southwest of Mindmill Point, Ont., Sunday afternoon.

At daybreak the coast guard was patrolling both the Canadian and American shores. The weather was very cold.

The plight of the fishermen was brought to the attention of the coast guard here when Captain Forner received telephone calls from several residents along the Canadian shore saying they had seen the men fishing and saw a field of ice break away from the shore ice. All agreed that at least ten men were marooned and carried away.

Jazz Opera Wins Favor In Vienna; Composer Only 28

Vienna, Feb. 6.—Jazz, by a native Viennese, has conquered the most conservative opera house of the world. Jazz-music, Charleston, chorus girls and negroes welded into the ultramodern opera bouffe "Johnny Strikes Up" by a young Austrian composer Ernest Krenek, shocked Viennese into calling it a revolution comparable only to that which ended the centuries old rule of the House of Hapsburgs.

"Johnny Strikes Up" introduces many modern technical inventions to the operatic stage. A radio-receiving set, automobile, and railway engine appear on the stage. No wonder that the well-known critic Max Graf exclaims:

"It is impetuous, fresh, vigorous, gay, youthful. What a talent, intellectual temperament, adroitness, and fresh imagination is necessary to write an opera like that, which is as free from theory and yet so successful."

And nobody wonders that the "classical" musicians of Vienna, Richard Strauss, Kernold, and Franz Schalk are less enthusiastic about the new opera. Dr. Schalk, who is the musical director of the Vienna opera-house, has bitterly opposed the acceptance of the jazz-opera, which he regards as a surrender. He has not concealed his opinion that "jazz music means to me nothing but a horrible relapse into barbarism and a complete anarchy of taste and hearing. It is a plague sweeping over unlucky Europe but like pest and cholera, this plague also will come to an end."

Ernest Krenek himself was very pleased by the Vienna performance. Krenek who was born in Vienna is only 28 years old, but has already composed several operas and many other musical pieces. He was conductor in the theaters of Kassel and Weisbaden.

The little red field desk that Lafayette used throughout the Revolutionary war and later presented as a token of esteem to Patrick Henry is now in the possession of a man in Austin, Texas.

Cities Hurry Too Much But Do Too Little Declares Grenfell

Chicago, Feb. 6.—"In the cities people are not doing enough and are hurrying too much about doing it," Sir Wilfred T. Grenfell, philosopher, explorer, surgeon and builder of a civilization, guest of Chicago recently declared the custom of hurry was one of the greatest disadvantages of the human race.

Sir Wilfred in 1892 journeyed to Labrador, found a barren almost uninhabitable waste and set about making it the best site of a fishing industry it is today.

Sir Wilfred added to his original declaration and said he found cities possessed of "unlimited possibilities and of politics that constitute an inexplicable anachronism."

Other Men Talk
"I believe men who go down to the sea in ships are men who really do things while the other men talk. Why should I not have gone down to Labrador when Labrador was without a surgeon?" he asked.

"It is a mission we have in Labrador. Five thousand fishermen have no preachers. I believe that Christ called not for intellectual submission but for the actual force of good will. Young folks do not like to have doctrines shoved down their throats and my fishermen are like young folks in many ways. They keep the basic ideas of youth and then like Holmes' famous carriage, go to pieces quietly at ripe old ages."

"Youth today is the most chivalrous that ever existed," continued Sir Wilfred, who is short of stature and has snow-white hair. "Ask a young person today to do anything worth doing. He'll do it."

Speaking of Labrador he said: "We have five large hospitals, co-operative marketing and buying societies, schools and two large orphanages." Sir Wilfred was shy though in admitting it was the International Grenfell association of New York which had brought about the changed conditions.

Have No Church
He explained Labrador had no church.

FLOOD RELIEF FIGHT BECOMES SECTIONAL WAR

Leaders Believe Plea To Stand By President Is Hopeless

POLITICS ENTERS INTO DISCUSSION

Steering Committees have Promised Bill Preferred Status

Washington, Feb. 6.—Administration leaders in congress have virtually decided to allow flood relief to become a legislative free-for-all, despite the positive recommendations of President Coolidge, it was indicated today.

A thorough canvass of the sentiment of members is said to have disclosed the hopelessness of attempting to invoke the plea to "stand by the president" in solving the problem of protecting the Mississippi valley.

Sectional Fight

Instead, the whole issue of flood relief apparently is rapidly evolving itself into a sectional and individual fight, with the national political aspirations of several members of both senate and house exercising considerable influence.

The chief efforts of administration leaders, it is expected, will be directed toward the squelching of all movements to turn the flood relief bill into a "pork barrel" measure through riders to include purely local projects and rivers and harbors work.

After weeks of irregular discussion and committee hearings, the flood relief problem is nearing consideration on the floor of both senate and house. Steering committees in both branches have promised it a preferred status.

Although the question of payment for the Mississippi valley project loomed as the most controversial question, indications of a real fight over control of the project and its scope has developed.

Distribution of Cost

Both senate and house committees considering the legislation are expected to reject the army engineers' proposal for distribution of costs of its $296,000,000 plan. Sentiment in both committees has veered toward national assumption of the entire cost.

Whether the project will be carried out by the Mississippi River commission or the war department engineers is still an unsettled question, as well as the extent to which control of tributaries shall be used in the solution of flood control.

The house committee is expected to virtually complete a report this week. The committee has already indicated that it would use the army engineers' recommendations as a basis, but provide for the government bearing the entire expense. Instead of the 80-20 plan endorsed by President Coolidge and the war department.

NON-UNION

About 2 1/2 hours the crowd was dispersed by Lieut. Col. Don L. Caldwell, Ohio national guard, deputy U. S. marshals, county officials and mine guards, who it was stated, fired machine guns from the mining property.

James Neitzelt, said to be one of the non-union miners, employed at the Florence mine, was arrested. He was accused of firing a shotgun into the crowd. No injuries were reported, although the marchers literally bombarded the homes of the non-union miners with stones and other missiles, breaking numerous windows.

Women, Children Removed

Women and children of the non-union miners' families were removed to places of safety on the company's properties.

Two men were placed in the jail at Martins Ferry for protection.

Last night's disturbance was the culmination of a series of marches which took place at night during the last week or two. Colonel Caldwell and local authorities voiced belief that the marchers for the most part were strangers, suspected of having arrived here from distant points by motor trucks and autos.

Officials said they were unable to identify the leaders. It was their judgment that the crowd was made up of radicals.

Relief Funds

Columbus, Feb. 6.—Adjutant General Frank Henderson today announced that contributions of cash for relief of destitute children in Ohio's coal mining regions approximated $16,000, including about $1,000 received today.

Henderson said that the Ohio National Guard expects to open about 11 stations in Crooksville and other Perry county school districts tomorrow where food and clothing will be dispensed to about 500 needy children. With newly-opened stations at Corning and adjacent points and at St. Clairsville, Belmont county, it was estimated that relief is being afforded to approximately 4,000 children.

Lives Threatened

St. Clairsville, Feb. 6.—That the lives of Prosecutor Paul Waddell and Sheriff C. C. Hardesty have been threatened, was reported here today at the sheriff's office.

The threat, according to Sheriff Hardesty, threatened violence to both officials, and destruction to six mines which are now operating in Belmont county.

Hardesty reported that he was inclined to consider the letter as a hoax. It was signed, "The Committee of Ten."

Examine Stomach Of Farmer Found Dead

Columbus, Feb. 6.—Doctors at the Ohio State medical laboratory here were today examining the stomach from the body of Lawrence Geyer, 39, of Seneca county, who was found dead in a plow furrow near his home Feb. 2.

County authorities after investigating the circumstances surrounding his death were of the opinion that he had not died a natural death.

Doctors at the laboratory this morning said there would be no announcement concerning their investigation for two or three days.

FRANCE, AMERICA RENEW PLEDGES

Sign Peace Treaty But Don't Outlaw War Between Nations

Washington, Feb. 6.—Joining hands over the 150-year old treaty which, in international law, signalized the birth of the United States, France and America today renewed the pledges of peace and friendship first forged by Benjamin Franklin in 1778, more than a decade before the constitution became effective.

The new treaty, a revision and renewal of the Root arbitration pact of 1908, was signed by Ambassador Paul Claudel of France and Under Secretary of the State Robert E. Olds, ranking officer of the state department in the absence of Secretary Kellogg, who is in Canada.

It provides machinery for the arbitration of all disputes between the two nations which do not involve France's obligations to the league of nations or America's prerogatives under the Monroe doctrine.

Although the preamble contains a declaration renouncing war as a means of settling international differences, this portion of the text is officially asserted has not the force of the treaty proper. Similar declarations have been made in scores of treaties throughout the world since the war. Unless they are incorporated in the body of the pact rather than in the preamble, they have the legal validity and force of an unsigned check.

GIRL ABDUCTOR ESCAPES SHOTS

Man Grabs Girl, Escaping In Frantic Chase In San Francisco

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—Every approach to San Francisco was under close guard today while police spread a vast web over the city and its environs in an effort to capture the driver of a large automobile who late last night abducted Marie O'Brien, 21, and fled before a hail of bullets in a frantic chase through the city's streets.

Miss O'Brien, in the company of two friends, Jean Collins and Grace Collins, stood in front of an oil station, waiting for a taxi cab when a big touring car stopped and a man emerged. He asked the girls to ride with him in his machine. Upon their refusal, he forced Miss O'Brien to enter the car and drove away while the girl screamed and tried to get out.

William Kirschbaum, special policeman, witnessed the abduction and immediately commandeered a taxicab for the pursuit. He opened fire but did not succeed in halting the driver of the big car, who eluded the officer after a chase of several miles through the streets.

Police today were questioning the Collins girls, who are sisters, in an attempt to bring to light more details of the kidnapping.

BANDIT ADMITS KILLING BANKER

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—George Germain, 33, accused of several local bank robberies, has admitted the slaying of Stephen Zaborski, cashier-secretary of the Lithuanian Savings & Loan Co., Jan. 31, according to detectives today, who brought him back from St. Louis, where he was arrested Feb. 2.

Germain was positively identified, police said, when Joseph Urbasits, teller of the Lithuanian bank picked Germain out at the line-up of prisoners in the central police station last night.

Germain and a pal, who is known only as "Little Red," made frequent raids on Cleveland banks, detectives said the prisoner told them. Germain said he became nervous while he and "Red" were "doing the Lithuanian bank job" and pulled the trigger "unconsciously," shooting Zaborski at close range according to police.

PRIDDY SUBMITS TO LUNACY TEST

Riverhead N. Y., Feb. 6.—Upon the verdict of a lunacy commission which was to examine Claude H. Priddy today will depend whether the 51-year-old ex-miner will ever be brought to trial for the confessed murder of his wife and two sons with an ax last Wednesday.

If the commission finds him unbalanced, he will be committed immediately to Matteawan.

Fred Ingraham, Jr., counsel for Priddy, has been given permission to be present at the sanity examination. Priddy smokes packages after package of cigarettes in his cell and drinks prodigious quantities of water. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university.

GUARD OFFICERS SAY GUILTY, ARE SENT TO PRISON

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—Four of six Ohio National Guard officers charged with forging and uttering United States government pay checks, today pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Paul Jones here, and were each sentenced to 15 months in Atlanta federal penitentiary. Two pleaded not guilty.

Bailey, 145th infantry, Akron, 12 checks, $53.60; First Lieut. Miles P. Gordon, 112th engineers, Cleveland, 17 checks, $68.90; First Lieut. Marshall A. Bailey, 112th engineers, Cleveland, 11 checks, $53.80.

Maj. R. E. Bowland, 145th infantry, Cleveland, charged with forging one check for $3 and Capt. George E. Graeter, 145th infantry, Cleveland, charged with forging seven checks for a total of $20.45, pleaded not guilty and were released under $5,000 bond each with the privilege to change their plea later.

DUAL ELECTION PROBE STARTED

Two Senatorial Bodies In Attempt to Clear Up Penny Contest

Washington, Feb. 6.—A dual senatorial investigation into the returns from Pennsylvania's 1925 senatorial election was begun today by the Reed slash fund committee and the Waterman election subcommittee.

Representatives of the Reed committee began an examination of ballot boxes, poll lists, registration sheets and other election paraphernalia seized in Philadelphia county a year ago. At the same time, the Waterman subcommittee started a recount of the ballots seized in Allegheny county. Each committee had a representative watching the other committee's work.

The Reed committee sought evidence to support charges of fraud brought against Senator-elect William S. Vare (R), by his Democratic opponent, William B. Wilson. The Waterman committee was concerned chiefly with determining who legally won the election and had sole charge of the counting of ballots.

The Reed committee meanwhile was preparing to plead before the United States supreme court for a writ of certiorari to get a review of decisions in the Pennsylvania federal courts that it had no authority to seize ballots last summer during the recess of congress.

WHEELER

was told that the small detail of company police present at the time would have been helpless before the much larger number of rioters.

Would Arouse Pittsburgh

In contrast to the statement of company police was the story a Mrs. Fishman, who operates a small store in Bruceton. She told him that "a number of coal and iron police not only stood by and watched the negro strike breakers shooting, but she and her daughters had seen the police join in the shooting."

Senator Wheeler expressed surprise that the people of Pittsburgh are not more aroused by the conditions of misery on the fringe of this large center of wealth.

"If we had a Roosevelt or a Wilson in the white house, in my judgment, this situation would not have been allowed to continue," as for the "black list," he asserted the Democratic senator.

At one point on his tour, a company policeman told Wheeler a store window had been broken when a brick was hurled. He flared up and retorted, "Don't you think I know the difference between a brick and buckshot and rifle shot?"

"As a member of the interstate commerce committee, to which the Johnson resolution was referred, I wanted to get some first-hand information," said Wheeler, upon his departure. "I felt there had been a good deal of exaggeration of conditions, but my visit here has more than confirmed the reports."

Interviews Strikers

Scores of strikers and their families were interviewed by the senator at Bruceton, Broughton, Curry, Horning, Coverdale, Russellton, Harroville, Harwick and Acetonia, in addition to coal and iron police deputy sheriffs and local magistrates.

"I was amazed to find so many men on strike and to find them as peaceable as they are," he said. "I know something about strikes, having run mining camps in Montana for 22 years. In 1915 we had warfare conditions in Montana when the copper miners went on strike. Many things were done by both sides that I could not condone. But hard-boiled as were the operators then, they did not elect the miners from their homes."

"It is inconceivable to me that the mining companies in Pittsburgh should practically throw these families, including women and children, into the streets in mid-winter, particularly as many of the houses today are still empty and not used by the companies."

"I have been shocked by the living conditions in the thin shacks housing families of 10 or 12 in two rooms, or six and seven children sleeping in one bed, by stories of children living for a week at a time without milk, families without food."

CONVICT GETS LIFE TERM FOR SLAYING GUARD

New Lexington, Feb. 6.—Pat Riley, Ohio penitentiary convict, was held in the county jail here today awaiting his return to the penitentiary to serve a life sentence for the slaying of Gracie Weiskel, guard at the Junction City penal brick plant.

A second degree murder verdict was returned against Riley Saturday night after which he was immediately sentenced.

Fred Kellogg, a fellow convict, Kellogg's wife, Imogene, and two other men are still to be tried on first degree murder charges as a result of the prisoner's unsuccessful attempt to escape.

GAS FUMES KILL WIFE, CHILDREN

Three Are Dead, Husband And Two Other Children Very Ill

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Anna Stanbik, 38, and two of her children, Anna, 11, and Eddie, 5, were dead at their home here today while the dead woman's husband, William, 42, and two other children, aged 8 and 9 years, were in a serious condition in a local hospital, the result of inhaling carbon monoxide gas which escaped from a coal burning water heater in the basement of the Stanbik home yesterday, according to Assistant City Chemist D. L. Coxles.

Coxles said the water heater was connected with the coal furnace but was not connected with the flue and when he arrived at the Stanbik home Sunday morning all the rooms of the one story frame dwelling were filled with the poisonous fumes.

BULLY IN PRICES

New York, Feb. 6.—The copper stock car and independent steel stocks led the rally in prices at the opening of the market today. On the New York stock exchange, the copper stocks were steady and rails firm. With Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Reading, independent steel higher.

Studebaker advanced a point to 23. Hudson Motor, Chrysler and General Motors held. Nationally higher.

Nevada C. & N. 41 1/2. Copper reached a new high at 22 1/2. American Can advanced to 75 1/2. International Commercial was up to 51 1/2. Crucible Steel up to 98 1/2. Republic Steel up to 64 1/2. U. S. Steel up to 47 1/2. Vanadium up to 47 1/2. Phillips Petroleum up to 47 1/2.

No time was lost at the beginning of trading today in the resumption of the aggressive forward move of the independent steel stocks. With Vanadium again in the lead, high and four of the other well-known steel shares pushing rapidly forward, the market gave a new demonstration of its strength in some of its important departments including the coppers and a few of the specialties.

Vanadium steel jumped an additional 4 points to 93 in the first 15 minutes, completing a gain of about 25 points on the move. Republic Steel jumped 4 points to 67. Bethlehem was up 3 1/2. Steel Foundries up 2. Youngstown up 2 and Crucible up 1 1/2. U. S. Steel common also shared in the advance, but on a more modest scale.

Though "merger talk" has been an important factor in the recent buying of the steel shares, the higher operations of the big producers and the actual and prospective price increases for steel products provide a more tangible basis for the higher market valuation of the steel shares. The U. S. Steel Corporation was reported today to be operating at 90 to 95 per cent of capacity against 64 per cent in December. The average for the whole industry has been placed at 90 per cent.

A few of the low-priced coppers under the lead of Nevada Consolidated jumped into the limelight with new price gains in active trading. In the motor group, Studebaker continued its spectacular upward move to 23, where the stock showed a gain of 5 1/2 points above last week's low. Chrysler, Hudson and Hupp sold about a point higher. Industrial alcohol led the specialties with a new 4 point jump to 111. Oils and rails were neglected in this period, but prices were generally steady.

Call money was in good supply at 4 1/2 per cent and commodity markets were steady, with cotton up 10 points.

KANSAS CITY TO RETAIN MEETING

Hilles Believes Upsets In Convention Plans Will Be Adjusted

New York, Feb. 6.—"I believe that everything will be adjusted and I have no doubt that the Republican convention will be held in Kansas City as scheduled," today declared Charles D. Hilles, Republican National committeeman and chairman of the convention committee of arrangements, commenting on reports that Kansas City was threatened with the loss of the convention through lack of accommodation.

While Hilles would not deny that there was opposition to Kansas City as a convention site, he said he knew of no serious opposition to carrying out the plans of the party for gathering in the western city.

Hilles said the arrangements committee would meet in Washington on next Thursday and Friday and would make a definite decision on the matter.

"Of course, delegates, officials of the Republican party and newspaper men must be taken care of at the convention but I believe it is absurd not to think this can be arranged," he said.

ORGANIZE FOR HOOVER TODAY

Adherents of Secretary In Ohio Gather To Plan Campaign

Columbus, Feb. 6.—Statewide organization of Ohio supporters of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover for the Republican presidential nomination is expected to take place at a conference scheduled to be held at the Deshler-Wallick hotel here late today.

It is proposed that the conferees adopt a resolution urging Hoover to enter the Ohio presidential primary campaign. The call for the meeting was jointly issued by Atty. Thad H. Brown, Columbus, former secretary of state, and by Atty. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati, former speaker of the Ohio house of representatives.

Under Ohio election laws, Hoover must formally assume his candidacy before Hoover candidates for delegates to the Republican National convention can enter the primary race in the Buckeye state.

A report has been received here from Washington, D. C., that Hoover is willing to file a declaration of candidacy in Ohio if he is assured that sentiment for him in Ohio is sufficiently strong.

The aerial distance to Port Au Prince is about 175 miles. There he will remain two days and then fly to Havana where he will be a spectator at the sixth Pan American conference now in session, and where he will be given one of the greatest receptions of his whole tour.

One of the high lights of Colonel Lindbergh's visit here was a pilgrimage to the tomb of Christopher Columbus, who four hundred years ago discovered a new continent.

The young flyer has been compared with Columbus by the residents of this section of the new world which first greeted Columbus' eyes as his ship sailed in from the Atlantic.

CONTEND LETTER IT MEANS LITTLE

Prosecution Alienists In
Hickman Case Dispute
Defense Claims

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 6.—Prosecution alienists today sought to erase from the minds of the jury in the Marion Parker kidnapping and murder trial a scarlet letter "H" which the defense contends brands William Edward Hickman as a beardless mad man.

Dr. Paul Bowers, who drew with a deer key the crimson letter on Hickman's snow white chest and back as an asserted mark of insanity, was prepared today to explain it by saying that red lines do not show the presence of dermatographia. Were Hickman truly dermatographia, Dr. Bowers was ready to testify, the key strokes would have raised a welt and not the "diffused erythema" which the jurors beheld last Saturday when Hickman stood half naked before them.

The defense alienists contend that dermatographia is a symptom of dementia praecox "on account of the frequency of endocrine disturbances in this disease." The words in quotation are from the definition of Dr. A. L. Skoog, internationally known neurologist, who testified that Hickman has shown marked signs of insanity.

Salem High Teams Break Even In Games With East Palestine

BOYS WINNERS AS GIRLS LOSE

East Palestine Boys Give Springer's Passers Merry Chase But Lose, 38-29; Salem Girls Flash In Second Half After Poor Start

Salem High cage teams broke even in county title races tonight at East Palestine Saturday night at the High school gym, the Boys winning 38 to 29, while the Girls lost, 31 to 27.

In the prelim, the Black varsity was defeated by Canton Central Junior High, 27 to 18.

The Brown and White quintet pressed the Big Red every minute of the game, and came near winning, sufficiently so to give the Springer men the spirit to send them on and stop the contest.

Palmer scored the first basket, and matched every Salem point in the opening stanza except the final two, the quarter ending 8 to 6. The Salem five warmed up nice in floor work in that period, but short shots were at a premium, so close did the Brown defense stick.

Salem broke away at the start of the second period, but Coach Ward's lads trailed right along and by a burst of speed near the close came up to within two points of the Big Red, the quarter ending 21 to 19 as Jenkins sank a free throw at the buzzer.

Keep Score Close

A pot shot sewed things up 21 all half a minute after the second half began, but Sidinger sent the Salem team into another lead with a goal soon afterwards. This lead now was held throughout the game, but the great guarding of the Palestine outfit this third period nearly caused some heart failures in the Salem camp.

The third quarter was an unusual one for scoring, Salem getting but two buckets and a free toss, and Palestine two baskets. This made the score 25 to 23.

Coach Wilbur Springer's five waited into a long lead soon after the last period began, and despite numerous substitutions kept the Brown in the rear. Litty's push and pat shots this quarter were the sensation of the period. The score was 34 to 28 when five minutes were up, but Salem, keeping up a steady patter at the basket, held Palestine to one point the balance of the game.

Allen And Litty Star

Allen and Litty sparked with wonderful all-round play. Allen's free tosses and floor work, and Litty's leaps and shots accounted for many points. Litty certainly will earn the crown as the greatest player of the county this year, for he is in the air and way up most of the time.

Jenkins sank some beauties from the side which were reminiscent of the baskets of the champion team of last season. Whinnery, Harwood

GERMAN RUNNER MAY NOT MEET AMERICAN STAR

New York, Feb. 6.—The time limit imposed on Dr. Otto Pelzer's stay in this country by German Athletic authorities loomed today as an obstacle to the long awaited clash between the German runner and Lloyd Hahn, premier American middle distance track star.

The mile event in the Knights of Columbus games here on Feb. 29 is the only race in which both may compete, and Pelzer's participation in this meet is doubtful. A cablegram from the German Athletic Union here on Saturday is interpreted by A. U. officials to read that Pelzer must make his three starts in this country within 14 days, precluding his entry in the K. of C. games.

Diving Champ Will Play Hostess For Tour to Olympics

New York, Feb. 6.—Miss Aileen Rieglin, Olympic diving champion, has accepted an invitation to act as hostess for Knute Rockne's Olympic tour this summer. It was learned today.

The springboard star speaks several foreign languages. She also is a talented singer and dancer and formerly was a member of the Metropolitan ball.

Miss Rieglin is now in Porto Rico. The European tour organized by the Notre Dame football coach will sail from New York on the liner Carmania, which Rockne has chartered, on July 20.

Mike O'Dowd Trains For Fight In West

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—"Midget" Mike O'Dowd of Columbus, O., was expected to arrive in San Francisco today to take up training for his forthcoming ten-round combat with Frankie Klock, featherweight of San Francisco. The fight is scheduled for Friday night.

O'Dowd, since he invaded the west has been meeting with considerable success. He holds a verdict over the Filipino sensation, Young Natantista.

Red Grange's Team Defeats Cleveland

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 6.—Red Grange's New York Yankee pro grid eleven today boasts a 13 to 6 victory over Benny Friedman's Cleveland Bulldogs. The game was played at Wrigley field here yesterday. Ernie Nevers, former Stanford All-American, performed beside the famous Friedman on the Bulldog team.

SPEEDY CANTON SCHERERS WILL OPPOSE MULLINS

Game To Be Played Here Wednesday; Favorite Knits To Return

The Canton Scherers, a team composed of players of the old Rogers Jewellers team, will play the Mullins cage team at the High school gym Wednesday night.

Outside of the Orphans, this year's Canton pro outfit, the Scherers are the elite of the Canton basketball world. This team has a long string of victories and has played in high class company all season.

Brooks Votaw expects to card an East Palestine team to oppose the Mullins in the prelim.

Mullins will bring back the Cleveland Favorite Knits Tuesday, Feb. 21. The Knits and the body makers staged the best game of the season recently, and it took an overtime period to bring victory to the Cleveland outfit.

With Harry Vogell and Russell Reese in the lineup, the Youngstown A.C. team Thursday night beat the Knits at Youngstown. Salem previously had trounced Youngstown. Inasmuch as this was the Knits' third defeat in 28 games, the Salem team feels that it must lick the Cleveland five in the next game to retain its high prestige.

Vogell plays with Mullins in home games, and his help may prove just what is needed to trim the Knits in this coming game.

The Hammernill Paper Co. team of Erie, Pa., with a string of 15 wins, will come here March 1. The Hammernills have defeated such teams as the famous Cory Keystones and Buffalo Lincolns.

CLEVELAND EASY FOR JUGENBUNDS

Salem Representative In German League Takes 71-20 Victory

The Salem Jugenbund five gave the Cleveland West German team a 71 to 20 pasting in a Penn-Ohio German league game at the Memorial building Saturday night.

More than 250 persons saw the Salem outfit run away with the Clevelanders, taking a 16 to 1 lead in the first quarter, making it 34 to 6 at the half, and leading 50 to 14 at the close of the third period.

A flock of substitutes went in during the first half and maintained the scoring attack of the first team. The starting five went back in for the last periods and showed Cleveland no quarter.

Hann, Flip and Pete Saunders, as usual, were the high point makers. The entire team played a fast game. Knapp was Cleveland's only star.

Next Saturday Salem goes to Cleveland East for the first of an important two game series which will probably decide the title for this year. East comes here the following week.

MORE THAN LIVES UP TO HIS "REP"

In his first competitive exhibition in America, Dr. Otto Pelzer (right), German track marvel, astounded fans and experts by the way in which he flashed home first in the thousand-meter race at New York. ## DRAFTING NEW GRID RULES

Rules Committee Will Report Today Whether Goal Posts Will Be Moved And What Is To Become Of the Muff or Fumble Puzzle

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, Feb. 6.—Having retreated in good order for two days to a spot where "one may be alone and faith renew," the football rules committee this afternoon will report whether it has decided to move the goal posts to the side lines in order to encourage lateral drop kicking or to make the new football look like a pocket flask in order to discourage fumbling. To be consistent, it should do one or the other or both.

Last year it decided that the defensive side could not advance with a ball that was recovered after a muffed punt but could do so, provided the muff was a fumble. It took the goal posts off the goal line, declared that a lateral pass, if fumbled, belonged to the attacking side at the point where fumbled, regardless of who recovered it, and reduced the shift to a problem for the stop watch. The new rules for 1928, therefore, were four in number and only three of them were slightly fatuous.

Lateral Pass Rule
The prevailing idea today was that officials next fall still would be trying to determine whether muff was a fumble, mounding buying themselves with the detail of counting "one-ten" with every shifting team. The goal posts, too, they say, will remain on the end zone.

The only addition to the 1927 code that may be disturbed, it seems, is the lateral pass rule. Indeed, Chairman E. K. Hall declared himself in favor of the entire list at the National Collegiate Athletic association convention. But the death of Fred Moore, the lateral pass rule sponsor, removed the only committeeman who might seriously object to its passing from the books and the presence of advisory committees of coaches and officials at the meeting assured many who feel they could bear up bravely without it.

Those advisors did not vote, of course, but if you think Knute Rockne and Hugo Bezdek don't talk you are assuming that they had lockjaw. The coaches' committee, the third member of which is Bill Spaulding, University of California, southern branch, was definitely instructed to oppose this rule.

Many coaches also object serenely to the muff or fumble provisions and to the presence of the goal posts on the end zone, and their sentiment has been duly conveyed to members of the rules committee. But it is understood that the majority of coaches are reconciled to another season of them, provided they gain the moral victory of having the lateral pass rule rescinded.

Much Disatisfaction
Rockne probably would like the two-second restriction removed from the shift but, at that, I don't see how he can be unduly ashamed by its operation last year. Besides, the majority of football men think it is a good rule, which automatically makes it a very good rule.

As for the officials' committee, headed by Walter Oakeson, it probably suspected that they write the whole book over again. There was endless dissatisfaction last season and most of it was caused by the fact that an official had to take up fortune telling as an adjunct to his regular trade. By no other method could he decide whether a punt was muffed or fumbled or whether a loose ball in the backfield was the result of an ill-directed lateral pass or the kind of fumble that was just a fumble up to and including the season of 1926.

SPEAKER SIGNS WITH MACK FOR COMING SEASON

Tris Is Reported To Have Agreed to Play For $35,000 a Year

BY LES CONKLIN
New York, Feb. 6.—Daddy Tris Speaker has gone a-hunting and brought home approximately $35,000 worth of bacon.

That is the salary which experts today estimated the veteran outfielder will draw from the Philadelphia Athletics, with whom he came to terms yesterday. Speaker is understood to have received $45,000 from Washington last season, and was released by the Senators last week after declining to take a voluntary salary reduction of considerable proportions. It is a furnished pinch that Connie Mack will pay him more than Clark Griffith offered him for 1928.

With "Spoke" in center field, Mr. McIlhenny is assured of an outfield at least as strong as last year's, when Tyrus Cobb roamed the out gardens in Slowtown. And the Gray Eagle will provide a drawing card, too, when Cobb refused to take a cut in salary and left the Athletics.

Speaker, who arrived here yesterday from the south after a hunting trip, said he and Mack reached a salary agreement in a long distance telephone conversation yesterday. Speaker said he would report to the Philadelphia training camp at Fort Myers, Fla., on March 1.

This will be Speaker's twenty-first season in the big show and the Athletics will be his fourth major league team. He formerly played with the Red Sox, Cleveland and Washington. In 1920 he led the Indians to a world's championship. Cleveland let him go following Dutch Leonard's unsubstantiated charge that Speaker and Cobb had bet on ball games.

Last season Speaker batted .327 and fielded satisfactorily, though not as brilliantly as in former years.

THE GUMPS—JUST A GOOD SCOUT

Baptist Troop Five

The Baptist Troop Five met at the First Baptist church Friday night. Each patrol met in different corners for 15 minutes and discussed plans for the coming week.

The opening ceremony was in charge of the senior patrol leader. Scoutmaster Taylor then took charge of the meeting. Each patrol had a report of their patrol meeting given. The scoutmaster announced that the troop has secured the R. T. Culbertson Conference display window for a display of the troop's scout work.

Following the announcement, the scouts answered some questions given them while at the patrol corners. These questions were very satisfactorily answered. The scoutmaster then gave the scouts some First Aid questions to answer.

The scouts had a "Champ-Nit" contest which was won by a scout in the Rattlegake Patrol. This contest determines the poorest knower of the troop. The scoutmaster then made a few announcements concerning the next meeting. He announced as a scout and Senior Patrol Leader Wm. Groves will act as scoutmaster. Patrol Leader Al Paxson will act as senior patrol leader. Scout Mike Kertler will tell a story, and Scout Raymond Close will have charge of the games.

The games which followed were very interesting. The most enjoyed were "Tractor," "Buz-z-z-z" and "Finger." The meeting closed by having the scouts line up and set the scout law in succession as they saluted the flag and passed out. The next meeting will be held at the First Baptist church next Friday.

Troop 2 had a very successful meeting last Thursday evening. There were 12 Scouts present and one visitor who is coming on joining the troop.

After all the business had been discussed the scoutmaster gave a little test to all the scouts which turned out very successful.

It was decided that the troop would practice basket ball at the Memorial building on Wednesday.

LONDONER SAYS U. S. MEN MUST LEARN TO DRESS

American Men Have Best Figures, Haven't Learn- ed How to Dress

New York, Feb. 6.—American men have the best figures in the world but they have yet to learn how to dress, in the opinion of Capt. John A. Murdock of London, authority on styles, who has just completed a lecture tour in this country.

"You Americans, however, are improving," said Captain Murdock. "I made a trip through this country fifteen months ago and was shocked by some of the get up but I noticed on this last trip a great change for the better. There still is room for improvement."

"I personally think there is too much of the college men's influence in the clothes worn by men in the United States. Too many business men are dressing themselves up in one and two button college suits of snappy color when a conservative cut and color would set them off to much better advantage."

Flare and Color
"There is too much of a tendency for flare and color. If American men toned down on colors and went in less for novelties in clothes design they would be the best dressed men in the world."

Captain Murdock said that in his travels throughout the country he saw glaring examples of lack of knowledge of the etiquette of clothes. He saw hundreds of colored ties, some of them very flamboyant. He also saw men wearing dinner ties of black touched with grey or else highly figured.

He advised men in this country to wear certain shoes with certain clothes. Brown shoes do not go with black clothes, although brown shoes will look alright with almost any other color.

He Was Shocked
To Murdock the wearing of plus fours and sport shoes are ridiculous. He is somewhat shocked, too, upon noting that some American men wear dinner coats on formal occasions when women are present. He insisted they should wear the white tie and the long tail coat. As for the tuxedo, he pointed out that even it was not a thing to get too gay with—that everything must still be black and white—no flowered ties or fancy waistcoats.

Evening shoes should be of patent leather. And nobody wears pumps any more.

"It is quite an art to know what to wear and how to wear it," said Captain Murdock. "It is well worth studying. Clothes may not make the man but they certainly make an impression."

OHIO TO HONOR VETERANS OF SPANISH WAR

Columbus, Feb. 6.—Ceremonies marking the dedication on the statehouse grounds here of the memorial honoring Ohio's veterans of the Spanish-American war will be held at the statehouse June 23. It was announced by Adjutant General Frank Henderson.

The memorial consists of a bronze statue made by Frank L. Jilbrouck, a Cleveland sculptor. It represents an American soldier in uniform worn during the Spanish-American war. The statue will be placed at the west entrance to the statehouse. It was stated.

Former U. S. Senator Rice W. Means, of Colorado, is to deliver the dedicatory address. Means is a former commander of the National Association of Spanish-American veterans.

The Ohio legislature appropriated $10,000 for the erection of this memorial. Justice E. S. Mathias, Van Wert member of the Ohio supreme court, is chairman of the committee of Spanish-American veterans of Ohio which arranged for erection of the memorial.

New York — Jean Taylor, 13 months old, plays real tunes on the piano, whistles and sings. Her dad is Deems Taylor, composer and critic who has just received an award of $5,000 from the Dullard foundation for his work in music. "It's a terrible thing to do for a lazy man," he remarked about the award.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Friml himself will be at the piano. The symphony Monday night will feature Italian and Russian themes.

The high light for Tuesday night is the "Lincoln program" in which Edgar White Burrill will read Ida M. Tarbell's "He Knew Lincoln." James Melton again will be with the Seiberling Singers and Cotton and Morpheus will take a brick-laying job.

For Wednesday night, the Troubadours will take off enough time from music to present Walter W. Head, president of the Boy Scouts of America. The Goodrich Zippers will be back with something new and the tabloid opera will be "L'Elisir d'Amore."

Dodge Bros. and Hoover Sentinels will be with us Thursday night and on Friday night there will be the Cities Service orchestra, La France players, Anglo Persians and the Palmolive Stock Co.

Helen Ardele, a soprano will be featured in the RKO hour over the Blue net (KDKA) Monday night. The Stromberg-Carlson hour Tuesday night will bring a variety program and the quintet will be featured. The Torrid Tots will offer another snappy program. For Wednesday there will be the Champion Sparkers and Sylvania Foresters and the genuine variety hour.

Thursday will bring the Maxwell hour, featuring Lambert Murphy and Robert Goldand, the boy pianist, in the Ampico hour Friday night there will be the Rock-a-Bye lady. The Re-Told tales and the Wrigley Sparsmen in review. Godfrey Ludlow also will give a violin concert. The Victor hour will bring a noted artist, the name to be announced later.

The Musical Album of Popular Classics Monday night at 9 on the Columbia chair will be made up of music from Bach to Cranger, and will be followed at 10 by the Captivators in a lively hour of popular hits.

Moszkowski and Paderewski are composers whose works have been chosen for the Kloster Radio. Famous Composer hour, Wednesday night at 9. The Karolers, Kloster Radio Symphony orchestra, and soloists will take part in the program.

"Memories and Musical Comedies" is the Columbia Phonograph Co.'s offering in their hour at 10 Wednesday night. No less than 27 well-known songs from musical shows of yesterday will be presented by a

Submits Ruling On Road Maintenance

Columbus, Feb. 6.—County commissioners are not obliged to furnish any money constructing and maintaining roads embraced in the state highway system, Atty. Gen. Edward C. Turner held today in a ruling given to Prosecuting Atty. John H. Houston, Georgetown.

The duty of maintaining and repairing all county roads is placed on the county commissioners, regardless of whether the roads are dirt roads or not, Turner ruled. The county's portion of the state gasoline tax, he held, may be used only for maintaining and repairing roads in the county highway system, including unimproved roads.

He also ruled that the county is not liable for damages to property caused by the use of county funds for the purpose of maintaining and repairing roads.

"Electricity!---
Child of Science and Enlightened Business"

Says Julius H. Barnes
Former President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States

"These recent great advances in transportation, communication, power development and pure science enable us to better understand the advance in productive industry resting on these great aids. Organized modern industry, guided by science, equipped by invention, driven by Nature's power forces, administered by trained minds, pours forth in increasing volume the thousands of articles which the homes of America today demand."

THE principles of science hold little meaning for the average citizen until he sees them applied to make his daily living better. In electricity, with its myriad uses easing the burdens and adding to the happiness of humanity, science perhaps has found the most brilliant vindication for weary years spent in the search for truth.

The electric light and power industry's engineers and executives have always been ready to apply every new invention making for greater efficiency.

Upon this spirit rests an electrical development in America which knows no equal in the world. It has been the inspiration of the policies which have always had as their aim success through an ever-expanding use of electrical service at low cost rather than exploitation of a limited supply.

Confidence of three million investors and the ready availability of necessary new capital each year are further recognition of the soundness which the industry has attained.

But the spirit of science, of progress and efficiency depend upon the freedom of individual initiative to give them life. Only as individual initiative is left free to strive and attain can the future service of the electric light and power industry be assured.

"Electricity!---
Child of Science and Enlightened Business"

Says Julius H. Barnes
Former President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States

"These recent great advances in transportation, communication, power development and pure science enable us to better understand the advance in productive industry resting on these great aids. Organized modern industry, guided by science, equipped by invention, driven by Nature's power forces, administered by trained minds, pours forth in increasing volume the thousands of articles which the homes of America today demand."

THE principles of science hold little meaning for the average citizen until he sees them applied to make his daily living better. In electricity, with its myriad uses easing the burdens and adding to the happiness of humanity, science perhaps has found the most brilliant vindication for weary years spent in the search for truth.

The electric light and power industry's engineers and executives have always been ready to apply every new invention making for greater efficiency.

Upon this spirit rests an electrical development in America which knows no equal in the world. It has been the inspiration of the policies which have always had as their aim success through an ever-expanding use of electrical service at low cost rather than exploitation of a limited supply.

Confidence of three million investors and the ready availability of necessary new capital each year are further recognition of the soundness which the industry has attained.

But the spirit of science, of progress and efficiency depend upon the freedom of individual initiative to give them life. Only as individual initiative is left free to strive and attain can the future service of the electric light and power industry be assured.
